

Practice Evaluation Form

Course ..... ☐ First semester ☐ Second semester ☐ Summer semester

Academic year .....

Student's name..... Student ID ..... Section ..... Year.....

Practice place ..... Ward..... Practice period .....

Topics for assessment	Score					Note
	4	3	2	1	0
Part 1 Nursing practice
1. Collecting comprehensive and complete data according to reality (3)
2. Nursing diagnosis covering physical, psychosocial and spiritual aspects (2)
3. Correct and proper nursing planning (3)
4. Performing each nursing activity with quality and efficiency (2)
5. Having quality and efficient communication skills (2)
6. Applying knowledge to nursing practice (3)
7. Self-protecting from danger in nursing practice (1)
8. Evaluating nursing practice comprehensively, completely and accurately (1)
Total score 68 points	.....points
Part 2 Attitude towards profession and nursing ethics
1. Having professional ethics
2. Having self-responsibility and responsibility for work
3. Sacrificing , being honest and having discipline
4. Having reliable personality
5. Behaving in good deeds
6. Respecting the value and dignity of humanity.
7. Being a good model for others in terms of both living and working
8. Being able to deal with ethical issues in life and work in the nursing profession
Total 32 points	.....points
Total score (2 parts) ..... points

Interpretation of scores

Very good (4) means that students are able to perform all 4 assessment topics completely and correctly.

Good (3) means that students are able to perform 3 assessment topics correctly.

Fair (2) means that students are able to perform 2 assessment topics correctly.

Improvement needed (1) means that students are able to perform 1 assessment topic correctly.

Not practicing (0) means that students do not perform the assessment topics.

Suggestions

.....
.....

Name.....Student

(.....)

Date .....Month ..... Year.....

Name.....Lecturer

(.....)

Date .....Month ..... Year.....

Effective in the first semester,
the academic year 2017

NS 301

Faculty of Nursing, Srinakharinwirot University
Practice Evaluation Guidelines (NS 203)

No.	Topics for assessment	Behavior / Information used for assessment
Part 1: Nursing practice
1	Collecting comprehensive and complete data according to reality	1.1 Collecting data from observation and interviews correctly. 1.2 Collecting data from physical examination correctly 1.3 Collecting data from laboratory tests correctly. 1.4 The data gathered covering physical, psychosocial and

No.	Topics for assessment	Behavior / Information used for assessment
		spiritual aspects
2	Nursing diagnosis covering physical, psychosocial and spiritual aspects	2.1 Analyzing data and linking the relationship of data correctly 2.2 Interpreting data correctly 2.3 Identifying the support information for each nursing diagnosis correctly. 2.4 Setting the messages covering physical, psychosocial and spiritual aspects
3	Correct and proper nursing planning	3.1 Prioritizing problems correctly 3.2 Defining nursing goals in each problem correctly 3.3 Determining the evaluation criteria for each problem correctly 3.4 Determining and prioritizing nursing activities correctly, covering care, disease prevention, health restoration and health promotion
4	Performing each nursing activity with quality and efficiency	4.1 Preparing service recipients and equipment and environment suitable for the activities 4.2 Correctly performing nursing activities according to techniques and procedures 4.3 Spending appropriate time for each activity 4.4 Following up the results of nursing activities
5	Having quality and efficient communication skills	5.1 Using communication skills to collect data of the service recipients correctly. 5.2 Using communication skills for proper nursing diagnosis 5.3 Using communication skills in performing nursing activities properly 5.4 Using communication skills in recording nursing evaluation correctly and appropriately
6	Applying knowledge to nursing practice	6.1 Having correct knowledge about diseases, causes, symptoms and signs of diseases 6.2 Having correct knowledge about treatment and nursing 6.3 Providing reasons for patient care activities correctly 6.4 Teaching each patients correctly and appropriately
7	Self-protecting from danger in nursing practice	7.1 Always taking care of health 7.2 Strictly following the principles of infection control from health services. 7.3 Performing nursing practice by adhering to the principles of prevention of infection 7.4 Self-protecting from harm and injury from the use of materials in nursing practice
8	Evaluating nursing practice	8.1 Summarizing and judging of the results of the nursing

No.	Topics for assessment	Behavior / Information used for assessment
	comprehensively, completely and accurately	practice correctly according to the assessment criteria 8.2 Evaluating nursing practice consistent with the nursing goals 8.3 Continuously following up the results of nursing operations. 8.4 Applying the results of the nursing practice assessment to the next nursing plan
Part 2: Attitude towards profession and nursing ethics
1	Having professional ethics	1.1 Preparing knowledge before performing nursing practice 1.2 Performing nursing practice with the principles of morality and ethics 1.3 Performing nursing practice by adhering to professional ethics 1.4 Using professional ethics in solving patients' problems
2	Having self-responsibility and responsibility for work	2.1 Operating and studying assigned patients as scheduled, except in the case of emergency. 2.2 Submitting nursing plans and caring for patients and reporting the patients assigned as scheduled 2.3 Notifying the lecturers when error occurs 2.4 Collecting the experiences identified in the course
3	Sacrificing , being honest and having discipline	3.1 Having discipline 3.2 Sacrificing to patients and profession 3.3 Being honest to patients and profession 3.4 Notifying when making every mistake and being considerate to others
4	Having reliable personality	4.1 Controlling emotions and having proper manners 4.2 Respecting others. 4.3 Listening to suggestions with appropriate facial expressions 4.4 Expressing logical opinions
5	Behaving in good deeds	5.1 Being a good citizen 5.2 Being grateful 5.3 Being responsible for patients, institution and profession 5.4 Being responsible for society
6	Respecting the value and dignity of humanity.	6.1 Performing self-introduction and explaining to the patient before giving nursing care every time 6.2 Disclosing the body of the service recipients as necessary 6.3 Disclosing the information of the client as the service

No.	Topics for assessment	Behavior / Information used for assessment
		recipients necessary 6.4 Providing information about diseases, symptoms, treatment and nursing care appropriately
7	Being a good model for others in terms of both living and working	7.1 Dressing and behaving properly according to the regulations 7.2 Following the rules and regulations of the institute 7.3 Following the rules of the practice place 7.4 Having discipline in living life
8	Being able to deal with ethical issues in life and work in the nursing profession	8.1 Observing the changes in the service recipients quickly and accurately 8.2 Prioritizing urgent issues accurately 8.3 Solving problems of the service recipients in a timely and accurate manner 8.4 Deciding to report the urgent problems of the service recipients to the staff in the health team correctly